FACTS ABOUT THE POSTAL LAWS

"Dont's" That Will Save Letter-Writers a Heap of Trouble.

Don't mail any letter until you are sure that it is completely and properly addressed. Don't place the address so that there will be no room for the post-mark.

Don't fail, in the hurry of business, to write the name of the state you intend and not your own—a very common error.

Don't fall to make certain that your manner of writing the name of an office or state may not cause it to be mistaken for one similar in appearance. It is often better to write the name of the state in full.

Don't fail, if you are in doubt as to the right name of the office for which your letter is intended, to consult the Postal Guide, which Don't fail to give the street and house number of the person for whom mail matter is intended in addressing it to a city or large

Don't mail any letter until you are sure that it is properly stamped.

Don't fail to place the stamp in the upper right hand corner. Don't write on the envelope "In haste,"
"Care of Postmaster," etc.; it does no good,
and tends to confusion in the rapid handling of mail matter.

Don't fail to bear in mind that it is unlawful to inclose matter of a higher class in one that is lower; ϵ , g., merchandise in news-

Don't mail any letter unless your address, a request to return, is upon the face of the envelope; so that in case of non-delivery it

Don't fall to give your correspondents your full address, so that a new postman cannot

Don't fail to notify your Postmaster of any change in your address.

Don't trust to the fact that you are an resident," "well-known citizen," etc., but have your letter addressed in full. Don't fail, if you intend to be away from home for any length of time, to inform your Postmaster what disposition shall be made

Don't delay the delivery of any mail matter that you may take out for another.

Don't fail to sign your letters in full, so that if they reach the Dead Letter Office they may be promptly returned.

Don't, when you fail to receive an expected letter, charge the postal service with its loss until you have learned from your correspondent all the facts in regard to its malling, contents, etc.

Don't forget that postage on drop letters is now two cents—just the same to send them across the street as it is to send them across the continent.

Don't ask any one connected with the Post office to address a letter for you, or to affix the stamps, or to seal it.

Don't ask a letter carrier to take your mail to the Postoffice unless the postage is paid on it by stamps. He is not allowed to accept money to pay for the stamps.

Don't ask any one connected with the Post office to fill up an application for a money

Don't present your letters for registration until you have placed the contents therein, scaled it, had it weighed and put the necessary postage on it, and have written your name and Postoffice address in full across the end of the envelope.

Don't attempt to send merchandise to foreign countries by "Parcels Post," unless your Postmaster be consulted concerning the country addressed and the manner of mail-ing matter thereto.

Don't fail to put the address of the sender on each parcel before mailing. This to facili-tate a return to the sender in the event of non-delivery.
